

Summer Law Program in The Hague 2010

Program Dates:
May 31 - June 26, 2010

Academics:

All participants enroll in two three-credit courses:

- International Criminal Law: In Search of Accountability, and
- International Legal Approaches to Terrorism in the 21st Century.

Integral to the academic program are site visits to major international institutions, including:

- International Criminal Court
- International Criminal Tribunal for the former Yugoslavia
- International Court of Justice
- Special Tribunal for Lebanon

Activities:

There will be many opportunities for participants to meet informally with students and practitioners. Students will have many afternoons free to explore the city; weekends provide opportunities for a program-sponsored trip to Amsterdam, as well as time for students to undertake more ambitious excursions.

Program fees

The Program fee is $9,018, which is the cost of six (6) law school credits. At no additional cost, the Program includes housing, reading materials, health insurance during the official dates of the Program, organized tours, and receptions.

Join us for the 2010 Summer Law Program in The Hague!

Join us for this rare opportunity to learn and live in the heart of the international justice community. Examine critical issues of international criminal law and international legal approaches to terrorism while spending a month in the "International City of Peace and Justice" among the practitioners, courts, and tribunals making history today.

Program Info and Eligibility

The Program is the product of a unique collaboration between the War Crimes Research Office of American University's Washington College of Law, established in 1995 to provide specialized legal research assistance to internationalized criminal tribunals, and the T.M.C. Asser Institute, one of the most prominent research institutes of international law in Europe.

All classes are taught in English. The program is open to full-time and part-time J.D. candidates who have completed one year of study, graduate degree candidates (LL.M.), and practicing lawyers. Graduate students in other disciplines may also be eligible.
