The new Summer Law Program in Israel will take place May 30—June 28, 2010, in Tel Aviv, Haifa, and Jerusalem. Participating U.S. law students will receive six credits for successfully completing two courses during the program: Rights, Liberties and Environment; and Intellectual Property and High Tech Law. The courses will be taught by well-known experts from premier universities and NGOs in Israel and overseen by members of the WCL faculty. The program is currently pending accreditation by the American Bar Association.
