

American University Washington College of Law
Center for Human Rights and Humanitarian Law

The Nuts and Bolts of Doing Human Rights Work

War Stories (And More) from the Field

Wednesday, September 17, 2008

12-1:20 PM, Room: 603

This International Week event will discuss “the good, the bad, and the ugly” of working abroad in the field of human rights. Come prepared for compelling stories from those who have firsthand experience in the field. Scheduled speakers include Center Executive Director Hadar Harris, WCL Professor David Hunter, and Project Director of the Center’s Human Trafficking and Forced Labor Project Ann Jordan.

The Center is pleased to introduce its newest lunchtime lecture series, “The Nuts and Bolts of Doing Human Rights Work,” kicking off this September. The events are all designed to provide a glimpse into the “real-life” experiences and challenges that face human rights practitioners out in the field. Panels will feature students, faculty, and guest speakers who will share their insights and stories.

All are invited to attend and contribute their ideas. Lunch will be served.

For more information about this event and others, please visit the Center’s website at <http://www.WCLCenterforHR.org> or call 202-274-4180