Discrimination definition:

Discrimination is a means of differentiating between people or groups of people based on perceived or real differences. In a negative context, discrimination is any distinction, exclusion, restriction or preference of one group over another. Among other examples, discrimination can be based on a person's race, descent, national or ethnic origin, gender, or disabilities.

Genocide definition:

Genocide occurs when one of a series of acts is committed with the intent to destroy, in whole or in part, a national, ethnical, racial, or religious group. The acts include: killing, causing serious bodily or mental harm, deliberately inflicting conditions of life calculated to bring about destruction, imposing measures intended to prevent births, and forcibly transferring children of the group to another group.
