

James Cleeve MA, Dip. Comp. Sci.
Partner

Beijing Office

Chartered Patent Attorney and European Patent Attorney

James has prepared and prosecuted patent applications in such fields as electronics, mechanical and electro-mechanical inventions, audio and video apparatus, semiconductor technologies and processing equipment, automation and industrial systems, manufacturing machinery, materials-handling equipment, defence equipment, telecommunications, internet-related inventions and business methods. James has extensive experience of Chinese, European, UK and Singapore patents, Chinese, European and UK trade marks and Chinese, UK and Singapore designs and currently advises clients in many aspects of Chinese IP protection.

James entered the patent profession in 1990, working in private practice in London, where he qualified as a UK Chartered Patent Attorney and as a European Patent Attorney. He then moved to work in private practice in Singapore in 2000, where he qualified as a Singapore patent agent before joining Lloyd Wise and moving to Beijing in 2004.

Qualifications

MA (Engineering Science), Cambridge University.
Postgraduate Diploma in Computer Science, Cambridge University
Graduate Certificate in IP Law, QMW College, University of London
Chartered Patent Attorney (UK)
Registered European Patent Attorney
Registered Singapore Patent Agent

jcleeve@lloydwise.com.cn
