

American University Journal of Gender, Social Policy & the Law

The American University Journal of Gender, Social Policy & the Law was founded in 1992 to provide a forum for those interested in gender issues and feminist legal studies. Our intent is to fill a void in feminist legal scholarship by providing an opportunity for academic discussion that is otherwise overlooked by traditional journals. By focusing on gender issues, we are committed to creating a dialogue between the sexes—a dialogue which we hope will further advance the development of gender equality in the law. We invite you to subscribe to the American University Journal of Gender, Social Policy & the Law today.
