

Law Firm Visit to

SIDLEY AUSTIN BROWN & WOOD LLP
AND AFFILIATED PARTNERSHIPS

Tuesday, October 12, 2004 at 12:30pm to 1:30pm at 1501 K Street, N.W., Washington, D.C.

In May 2001, the law firms of Sidley & Austin and Brown & Wood merged to become Sidley Austin Brown & Wood, a significant legal power in the international arena.

From their offices throughout North America, Europe and Asia, Sidley Austin Brown & Wood assists companies, governments and trade associations worldwide on transactional, regulatory, dispute settlement and policy matters.

Sidley Austin Brown & Wood's team of seasoned negotiators, deal-makers, litigators and policy advisers draws on extensive private sector and government experience to help companies and governments shape these rules and resolve disputes arising under them. Because the United States and the European Union are the world's most important actors in international trade, Sidley Austin Brown & Wood has teams in Washington, D.C. and Brussels. Since the World Trade Organization is the focal point for trade rules, they have an office at the WTO headquarters in Geneva dedicated to ensuring that our clients are represented in international negotiations and WTO disputes. For a full list of their offices, practice areas and professionals visit their website at www.sidley.com.

Our international group assists clients in the full range of trade and dispute resolution matters including:

- Antidumping, countervailing duty, safeguard and other trade remedy proceedings.
- Customs classification, valuation and rule of origin matters, including rules on preferential trade regimes and free trade areas such as NAFTA.
- Export controls, embargoes and economic sanctions compliance.
- Food safety, product regulation and industrial standards issues.
- Trade policy issues before USTR, DG Trade and METI.
- Disputes arising under the WTO and bilateral investment treaties, as well as international commercial arbitration under the ICC, ICSID, UNCITRAL, LCIA, Stockholm Chamber rules and disputes before the International Court of Justice.
- Protection of intellectual property.

Meet associates and partners from Sidley Austin Brown & Wood's international trade and dispute resolution practice areas.

Lunch will be served.
