SPONSORS

WCL – International Trade Law Society exists to promote discussion of international trade law issues and to help students explore careers in international trade law. IITLS sponsors discussion forums on topics such as NAFTA, anti-dumping laws, and the World Trade Organization. IITLS strives to provide a balance of views and discussions of trade issues all over the world and all types of trade agreements.

Center for North American Studies aims to educate a new generation of students to begin a North American journey comparable to that begun in Europe five decades ago. The center examines the differences and shared characteristics of Canada, Mexico, and the United States; compares the North American experiment with Europe's; and challenges students and faculty to imagine a continental future.

WCL – International Legal Studies Program

incorporates a rich array of international law courses and seminars, experiential learning, and special events that offer valuable opportunities to interact with international attorneys, diplomats, business leaders, and policy makers.

WCL – Alternative Dispute Resolution Society seeks to promote student interest in alternative dispute resolution (ADR) at the WCL. The society helps students gain an understanding of and actively promote the use of ADR as an effective alternative to litigation. Students have the opportunity to hear from prominent ADR experts in the field and to participate in local mediation trainings and competitions.

WCL – Latina/o Law Student Association (LaLSA)

provides a forum for Hispanic issues-international and domestic-that are important to WCL students. Since its main objective is to promote Hispanic awareness within the legal community, LaLSA has programs designed to assist students in all aspects of student life, from law school admissions to life after graduation. Programs include networking opportunities, speakers, seminars, and debates on Hispanic issues.
