Unique Experiential Learning Opportunity for Selected JD Students

WCL's UN Committee against Torture (UN CAT) Project is a one-of-a-kind experiential learning opportunity for selected upper-level JD students. Participants engage in a specialized fall seminar on the prohibition of torture under international law, as well as in the Project's unique field component: accompanying UN CAT Chair/WCL Dean Grossman to the Committee's official meetings in Geneva, Switzerland, for one week in November.

Panelists will discuss this remarkable opportunity, as well as the current application process and deadline for the 2009 Project:

Dean Claudio Grossman (Chair, United Nations Committee against Torture), UN CAT Project Coordinator Jennifer de Laurentiis, Professors Jamie Raskin and Darren Hutchinson, and student participants Alexandra Bradley, Anna Cabot, Gillian Chadwick, Amalia Greenberg, J. Hess and Solomon Shinerock
