

American University, Washington College of Law

COMPARING MINING LAWS IN AFRICA: NATURAL RESOURCES, TECHNOLOGY AND COMMUNITIES

Presented by the Program on International Organizations, Law and Diplomacy and the European Law Association

Wednesday, March 28, 2018

10:00 – 12:00 pm

American University Washington College of Law
Room N104, First Floor, Warren Building

Lecturer: Nneoma Nwogu, World Bank Senior Counsel

Nneoma Veronica Nwogu is a senior counsel to the World Bank and has provided legal representation on the Bank's financing of projects in the Africa and Middle-East regions and currently on matters related to Development Finance at the corporate level. She also serves as the legal advisor to the Energy and Extractives Global Practice of the organization. She conceived of the African Mining Legislation Atlas and led it, as a team lead at the World Bank from inception to the handover of the project to the African Legal Support Facility of the African Development Bank, coordinating with various development partners including the Africa Union Commission, Natural Resource Governance Institute, Columbia Center for Sustainable Investment, and various African law faculty. Prior to joining the Bank, she was an International Financial Transactions Associate at Hogan Lovells LLP (formerly Hogan & Hartson LLP) in Washington DC and she is currently an adjunct Professor at AU WCL teaching the Law of International Organizations.

Registration is free, but required. To register, please go to www.wcl.american.edu/secleregistration.

For further information, contact: Office of Special Events & Continuing Legal Education, 202.274.4075 or secl@wcl.american.edu